

Larry Wachs

Managing Director,
Whitman Transition Advisors

About Larry

Larry brings over 30 years of proven success as a consultative business and technology transformation professional. At Whitman Transition Advisors, he leverages his deep expertise to help public accounting firms across the country develop and implement customized strategies that drive revenue growth, ensure continuity and succession planning, and enhance operational effectiveness.

Throughout his career, Larry has consistently enabled client organizations to achieve their strategic objectives by aligning innovative technologies with sound business practices. He is known for his ability to communicate complex change initiatives in clear, non-technical terms—earning the trust and buy-in of business leaders at all levels. A passionate communicator and strategic thinker, Larry is recognized for “speaking truth to power” while delivering measurable results that exceed expectations.

Larry’s national client base benefits from his unique blend of technical insight, organizational acumen, and unwavering commitment to client success. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the City University of New York – Brooklyn College and resides in the Metro New York area.

Reach Out If You Need Help With:

- Business and Technology Transformation
- Operational Effectiveness Strategies
- Revenue Growth Planning
- Succession and Continuity Planning
- CPA Firm Modernization Initiatives
- Partnering with Whitman Transition Advisors
- Implementing Change with Firmwide Buy-In
- Aligning Technology with Strategic Business Goals

📞 646 425 1702

✉️ lwachs@whitmantransition.com

🌐 www.whitmantransition.com